What's New

It has been a busy month for Richard A. Kennedy, the Owner & President here at Kencor Elevator Systems. He just joined the board of the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority. As a Presidential Appointee, he has become the 17th member of the board. Rick will be responsible for managing Dulles International and Reagan National Airports along with managing the Silver Line rail project, estimated to cost $5.6 billion. Rick also received the coveted William C. Sturgeon Award from the National Association of Elevator Contractors. This award is given annually to a member of the industry that makes the greatest contribution to the well-being of the elevator field.

Congratulations Rick!

Did You Know

The temperature outside affects the operation of your equipment. Planning ahead for the colder and hotter months can save you down time and costly repairs. Please discuss this with your mechanic, and they can help you foresee any potential problems.

Helpful Tip

We receive numerous requests from our customers to order extra sets of keys. There are a variety of elevator keys available with different purposes. When ordering keys it is important for us to know the exact type, brand and numbers on the keys, to ensure that we order the correct type. Some keys have to be custom made and require additional processing time. Please check with your mechanic if you need to order keys or have any questions. Your mechanics know your equipment best and can give you the proper information so you know exactly which keys you need. Our parts department is more than happy to help you with the ordering process, or your mechanic can order them for you. We highly suggest having extra sets available in case of an emergency.
